In Memory of

William E. Hollingsworth

He is dead, the beautiful youth,
The heart of honor, the tongue of truth,
He, the life and light of us all,
Whose voice was blithe as a bugle call,
Whom all eyes followed with one consent,
The cheer of whose laugh, and whose pleasant word,
Hushed all murmurs of discontent.

Verified is the fact that in childhood are found The embryonic traits which in manhood abound; That as bent the young twig, so the tree will incline: Is nature's reaction to action divine.

Just a little gray streak is the herald of day, When Phoebus Apollo in purple array, In his oriel rich from his moon-lit berth, In splendor appears to illumine the earth; The Seasons, the Day, and the Month, and the Year Are his retinue kingly befitting his sphere; The stars are his jewels, the clouds are his robe, The dew-drop, his mirror, his journey, the globe; His paeans of victory and triumphs in fight Are synonomous terms of his beauty and light, For he conquers the darkness in heaven's blue dome, And kindly caresses the ocean's white foam; The pilgrims rejoice in the brightness of day, And whisper his praises in the warmth of his ray.

In a cave of Cyllene, at peep of the morn, Was inventor of musical harmony born; The son of a nymph, and his father, a god, Many wonders he wrought with his magical rod. At the door of the cave, on a tortoise he fell, And the lyre he invented by stringing the shell. The voice and the lyre now united in tune Made a melody perfect, humanity's boon.

See the plant with the lapse of a century grown,
Now crowned in its age with an honor its own!
The brighter the hues for the passing of time,
Its glory, a fragrance and beauty sublime.
No flower like this in the bright coral woods
Perfuming the streams to the ocean's deep floods.
Hyperborians dwelling in regions of bliss
Had no blossom so fair gentle breezes to kiss.
From its fountain of strength—with the passing of years—
Its nature triumphant in glory appears.

Just a century ago, just a century ago, When the minds of a few with spirits aglow, Would establish a school in the love of mankind, For the strength of the body, the spirit, the mind. Its beginning was little, but fertile its soil, And its culture was true and responsive to toil; Like the myth of Apollo, divine in its source, But never a blot nor cause of remorse. As the glory and worth of the century bloom Are woven of the air in a heavenly loom, So the worth of the school in the century gone Is the worth of the men with a vision reborn; As the deeds heroic by Mercury done, Were worthy the fame of Jupiter's son, So is woven the fabric of service begun Of the warp and the woof which the founders had spun.

All hail to our College an hundred years crowned, Defender of Faith and in Truth renowned!

The Legend of the Choctaw Tribe, 1826-1926

ROM time immemorial epic poets have sung of men and heroes, the beginning of nations and races. Greece had her Iliad and Odeyssey, wherein Homer immortalized the memories of deeds and deities, gods and demigods. Rome had her Aenead wherein Virgil commemorated the founding and early tribulations of the former mistress of the world. Our ancestral Norsemen chanted the deeds of their forbears and compeers in the Sagas of the northern woods. In like manner the Tribe of the Mississippi College Choctaws has its legend also. As the year of 1926 unfolds itself, a full century of her glorious history is completed. The institution plumes herself, as with pride she points to the accomplishments of a century well spent. Her deeds have not been glorified in the heroic meter of the epic nor praised in light Pindaric odes, but in the silent tribute of a state and nation well served is she immortalized. But as on this, the hundredth anniversary of her inception, we attempt to chronicle her legend, we feel that the subject and its possibilities are worthy of a far mightier pen than ours, aye, worthy of the mightiest the ages have produced. Yet we beg of you to bear with us as we attempt to do justice thereto.

As far back into the dim antiquities of the past as history throws its illuminating beams, education has existed. Every human being who has learned to express by any means a single idea has been to that extent, educated. But education in its highest form had its beginning in 1826 when the citizens of what was at that time the most prosperous town in the State of Mississippi, seeing the need for a high type education for her youth, established in their midst an institution of learning, which they called Hampstead Academy. Thus, most opportunely, just nine years after the grand old commonwealth of Mississippi embarked upon her uncertain career of statehood, was established near her center an institution which was ultimately to prove to be a most potent influence in her history, the source of her life's blood, for men such as Mississippi College turns out comprise the life's blood of any state or nation.

Thus, Mississippi College had her beginning, as all things must have a beginning, as Hampstead Academy. Soon, however, the name was changed to Mississippi Academy, and later to Mississippi College and such she has remained till this good day. In the beginning she was a public institution. In 1842, however, the citizens of Clinton committed the school to the Presbyterians, who conducted it as a denominational school. But it was foreordained from the beginning that it should be a Baptist denominational College. Hence the Presbyterians became unable to continue their operations of the school, and returned it to the citizens of the community. They in turn, offered it free of debt to the Baptist Denomination of Mississippi. In 1850 it was accepted. Mississippi College became a Baptist Denominational College, and thus also she has remained until today.

Most inauspiciously did Mississippi College begin her career as a Baptist institution, commencing operations with a faculty of one teacher, a student body of fourteen youngsters, a plant valued at eleven thousand dollars, and not one dollar of endowment. In 1858 the faculty had been increased to five and the student body to one hundred thirty, an endowment of one hundred thousand dollars had been raised, and two years later a magnificent chapel building of brick had been erected at a cost of twenty-five thousand dollars. Thus, under the administration of President Urner, the college in 1860 found itself in a most flourishing condition, for those times.

Just as Mississippi College was beginning to take her rightful and appointed place in the affairs of men and nations, that political catacysm, the Civil war, swept the country, and the grand old institution of the Choctaws became involved in the maelstrom of war that eventually devastated our fair Southland. The pick of the student body and three of the faculty formed themselves into a volunteer company called the Mississippi Rifles, donned the gray, and marched forth to do or die in defense of Dixie's fair domain. However, the college continued to operate, in face of almost unsurmountable obstacles, for the duration of the war. When the war clouds had cleared away, and an inventory of the situation had been taken by the college, she found herself with buildings dilapidated, in debt for running expenses during the war, and her endowment swept away by the war.

Such was the situation that faced Dr. Walter Hillman when he was elected President of Mississippi College in 1867. By the efforts of President Hillman, Rev. E. C. Eager, Rev. A. A.

Lomax, and Prof. M. T. Martin, money was raised from our impoverished people to cancel the debt on the college by the year 1872. The session of 1872-73, which marked the close of Dr. Hillman's administration found the college again in the condition which existed before the war, with the exception that the endowment had not been replaced.

Dr. Hillman was succeeded as President by Dr. W. S. Webb. At the beginning of his administration the entire college was reorganized. Only two members of the faculty retained their positions of the preceding year. The course of study at that time was radically different from that of today. Conferring of degrees, of which there were three, A.B., B.S., and B.L., was not based on time spent in college nor a fixed course of study to be passed over, but on the mastery of prescribed studies. However, the chief difficulties during President Webb's administration were financial. From the close of the war until 1890 the College ran without endowment, thus necessitating the meeting of expenses with tuition fees and collections from Baptist churches and individuals. In 1890 an endowment of four thousand dollars was secured by Dr. J. B. Gambrell. The next year Dr. Webb resigned the presidency, and was succeeded by Dr. R. A. Venable.

Dr. Venable's administration was a troubled one, the panic of 1893 and the "hard times" accompanying it having a disastrous effect on the attendance of the college and consequently its revenues. Then also, there was at this time a great deal of aggitation by a great many Baptists of the state for a change in the location of the College, all of which resulted in troubles. Dr. Venable's ability piloted the old institution safely through the troubled waters, however, and in 1895 he retired to resume his work as pastor.

From 1895 to 1898 Dr. J. W. Provine was acting-president. During the last year of his administration the yellow fever scourge, which swept the Gulf Coast region, and its ravages almost resulted in the complete disorganization of Mississippi College. The enrollment that year was only one hundred fifteen. At the end of the year Dr. Provine asked to be relieved of the presidency in order that he might devote his time exclusively to his department, the Department of Natural Sciences.

The administration of Dr. W. T. Lowrey, who succeeded Dr. Provine, was marked by rapid development of the college along various lines. In 1901, forty-five thousand dollars were secured from the people of the state, and fifteen thousand from the American Baptist Educational Society to increase the endowment to a hundred thousand dollars. In 1907, Jennings Hall and the adjoining dining hall were built with money donated by the family of Z. D. Jennings, the people of the state, and the General Education Board. In 1911 the new Science Hall was built. Several new departments were added to the curriculum during this period also.

Dr. Lowrey resigned in 1911, and Dr. Provine was called to the helm of "the Old boat," as he is wont to call the institution. She has continued "to rock along," to quote him again, under his efficient guidance until the present day. Since he has been president two new buildings have been erected, namely, Ratliff Hall and the Library Building; a third, the modern gymnasium, which is a gift to the college by her alumni, is nearing completion; the curriculum has been improved and extended to offer a Master's degree; the endowment has been raised from one hundred twnty-five thousand dollars to six hundred twenty-five thousand dollars; the college has qualified for and become a member of the Southern Association of Colleges, and "Goat" Hale beat Tulane fourteen to nothing. Would that I had the gift of prophecy, that I might delve into the future and portray what greater feats the Choctaw Tribe is sure to accomplish under the leadership of our present great Chieftain. Future historians will have the privilege of chronicling those deeds which I can only prophesy.

Thus, the first century of the history of the Choctaw Tribe closes with the year 1926, the most glorious of all her glorious years since that century-old occasion when the most glorious of all institutions of learning had her beginning. But our hope, our prayer, our prophecy is that even more glorious years will be her lot as she continues in her divinely appointed mission. Mississippi College, "Esto perpetua!"

THE TRIBESMAN, 1926

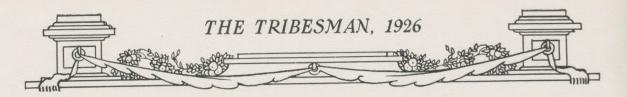

J. W. Provine

Here's the Big Chief of the Choctaws, Dr. J. W. Provine, the president of Mississippi College, the mighty council-leader of the Tribe. To him is bestowed a large measure of our love, admiration, and respect. His is the strong hand that has guided the destinies of the institution for many years and we hope he shall continue to do so for many years to come. "Long live Dutchy."

To Nineteen Twenty-Six

Just a word to greet you, Just a wish to reach you, Just a while to see you-Seniors attending.

Some things we have had together, Some times we've been bad together, More often we've been glad together Than ever we've been sad together, To Seniors ascending.

Like a hill-climbing Ford, We started in low, Papooses-you know The Freshman's estate Of being in thrall. In line with our rank We got many a spank To efface the effrontery Of knowing it all.

But the time soon sped; We soon got ahead In Sophomoric wisdom and lore; We repaid in kind

THE RESERVENCE OF THE PARTY OF

To new Fresh behind The gifts of those gone before.

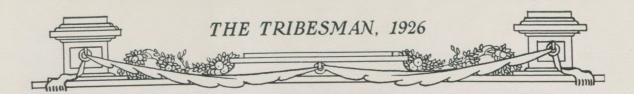

With Junior years Came Junior ways; Somewhat jaunty still, Not yet down fool's hill; But doubtless on our way, Cutting wisdom teeth today, Not so carefree as of old; Not so heart-free, truth were told.

Seniors at last, we stand on the crest; Surviving those others We might have hailed brothers, Had they managed to finish the climb.

We are the eldest of the Choctaws, And on the eve of going Here we have learned the best; Hereafter we must live the rest; According to our knowing;

A grit to bear; A grin to wear And ground for growing.

"Jenks" has the distinction of being the swiftest Choctaw ever seen on a Mississippi College basketball team. Nor is his ability confined to the indoor sport. He is wearing his third letter in baseball by showing his ability in playing the national sport. Jenkins numbers his friends by the hundreds. A loveable fellow is this president of our student government. We are not sure as to his aspirations in life, but unreservable we predict a brilliant future for him.

So short a space cannot do justice to describe the real qualities of Laird, but in all he is a princely fellow, "Mama" came to us in '22 as a high school athlete who had already established an enviable record. Today he is to the Choctaw Warriors what any one of the Famous Four Horsemen was to Notre Dame. A natural born leader, added to his willingness to work, has caused the student body to call on Laird to lead probably more college activities than any other one man during his brief four years at M. C. In his dealings with his fellows he has always been found to be generous, honest, considerate and manly. We unhesitatingly predict a great future for Laird in the coaching profession, or any other one of the higher professions of life,

'Tis hard to conceive how one so small of stature can do so many different things and do them well. Yet has "Buck" been everything from campus comedian to editor-in-chief of the Tribesman, including class poet, class athletic teams, basketball manager, and cheer leader, and in all has he excelled. His transformative from the frolicsome Frosh of '22 to the elite editor and staid Senior of '26 has been gradual, but complete. He goes forth from our doors this year to wrest success from the world—for he who has undertaken and succeeded at so many things knows not the word "fail." Sardis had the honor of sending to Mississippi College one of the most popular men in school. "Nommie," as he is commonly known by the students, came here in the fall of '22 and has been a faithful and loyal Choctaw. Tommie is one of the best athletes, not only in M. C., but in the state. In baseball he plays in the outer gardens and his sensational work at forward on the basketball court has won the admiration of everyone who has seen him in action. M. As for politeness, he is in every sense of the word a Southern gentleman, Ray is a hospitality and politeness, He is in every sense of the word a Southern gentleman, Ray is a musician of note and he has been a valuable member of the Choctaw Band since his Freshman year. He puts the class of '26 first and is always on hand when there is work to be done. With the combination of his honest heart, good manners, business ability and his pleasant smile, the future holds success in store for Thornton Ray.

GREGORY E. KANE

OF

GALLMAN, MISSISSIPPI

Freshman Baseball; Scrub Baseball (2, 3); Wild Cat Baseball (2, 3); Philomathean.

A genius is something rare, but "Shorty" is a genius in the art of "bull shooting," if it may be called an art. The session is not complete without him. He possesses a very pleasing personality, and always greets you with a smile. As an all-round fellow, he is liked by all. Once his confidence is gained, he is loyal to you to the end. He made the Freshman baseball team, and worked faithfully for a place on the varsity. We all wish him the best of success and happiness in the future.

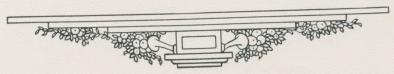

R. R. STUBBS

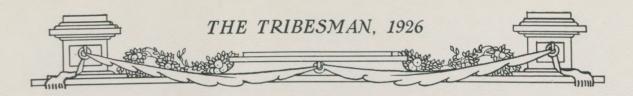

OF

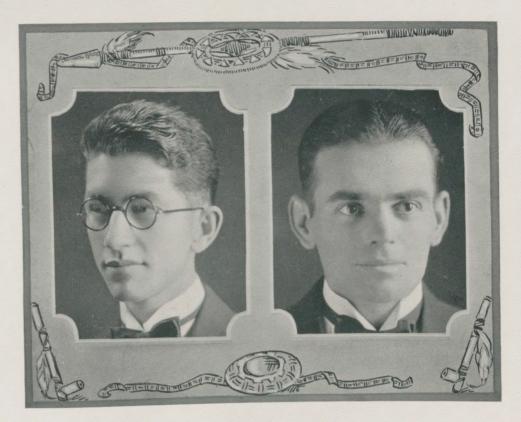

COLLINS, MISSISSIPPI

Manager of Class Basketball (1); Class Basketball (2); Freshman Varsity Baseball (1); Class Baseball (2); Class Football and Basketball (3); Sullivan Hollow Club; Lion Tamers' Club; Spórting Editor Collegian; Three-Year Club; President M. C. Bar Association; Philomathean; Distinction.

It is a rather enviable record to finish M. C. in three years with distinction. But this does not wholly describe the real ability of Stubbs. He has proven to be a gentleman of rare breeding and determination—he takes an active part in phases of college activities, is an excellent student, forceful in personality, and without doubt the legal profession will be proud to claim him as one of her most distinguished sons some day.

JAMES H. STREET

Director (3); Dampeer Memorial Scholarship (3); Lee Haygood Medal (3); President Hermenians (3); Varsity Debating Team (3, 4); Fall Orator, Hermenians (3); Secretary Debating Council (4); Collegian Staff (4); B. S. U. President (4); Hermenian Anniversarian (4); Ministerial Student; Special Distinction.

You will have to go a long, long way to find a man who has accomplished more in four years of college than has James Street. Here is one that has no superior in the class room, who can hold his own on the debating platform, whose oratorical abilities are unexcelled, whose administrative ability, as shown by the high degree of efficiency with which he filled the office of general B. Y. ability, as shown by the high degree of efficiency with which he filled the office of general B. Y. U. president last session, an office requiring ability of the highest degree, is of the first order, and who, in his divine calling as a ministerial student of the gospel shall surely become one of the country's greatest. country's greatest.

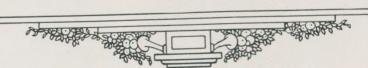

JOHN KIRKWOOD WILSON

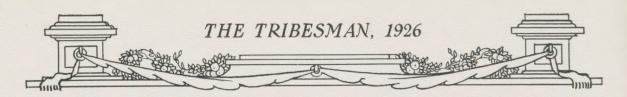

OF

TUPELO, MISSISSIPPI

Class Baseball, '21, '22, '23; Hermenian; Special Distinction; Three-Year Club.

John has been one of those irregular fellows who stopped a couple of years or so to instruct the youth of the commonwealth, in the midst of his college course. But his efficiency as a student has youth of the commonwealth, in the midst of his college course. But his efficiency as a student has in no wise been impaired thereby, as is proven by the "Special Distinction" among his achievements, also he has been "one of the fellows," and has always helped to uphold his class on the athletic field. It is also rumored that he has fallen victim to one of Cupid's darts. We wish you the best-cluck Lohn o'-luck, John.

K. E. BYRD

OF

NICKBYRD, MISSISSIPPI

Freshman Basketball; Freshman Football; Reserve Football (2, 3); Reserve Basketball (3); Class Basketball (1, 2, 3, 4); Class Football (1, 2, 3, 4); Class Baseball (2, 3, 4).

Byrd is a steady, consistent player in the game of life, as well as on the athletic field. In the class, he is not the one to make the most noise, but the one that can always be depended on to do the work. He is reliable, honest, never falling, and in this way he has gained the love and admiration of his fellow students. Some say that Byrd is deep in love, but time alone will reveal that, but we can very accurately predict that success will crown his efforts regardless of the way he travels.

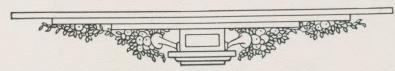

WILLIAM ANDREW GILLENTINE, JR.

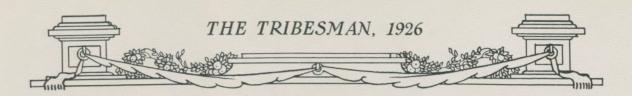

OF

SARDIS, MISSISSIPPI

President Radio Club (1, 2); Class Baseball (1, 2, 3); Philomathean.

"Better undertake the right and fall, than fail to undertake the right."—Selected "Red" hails from Sardis, which is the least that could be said of him. He is a good student, a quiet worker, a loyal member of the class of '26, and an all-round good fellow. Gillentine came to the wigwam with an ambitious mind and we rejoice with him in his success. He is specially gifted along scientific lines and we are expecting to hear from him in the future. A great scientist, an inventor, a college professor—what will it be? "Red," as you climb the ladder of success, may you take the "Spirit of the Choctaws" with you—and remember the class of '26 cheers you on.

MERRILL D. MOORE

TUPELO, MISSISSIPPI

It would be hard to do justice to a man of lesser mein than Merrill in the brief space allotted to me for that purpose. In forensic fields, scholastic spaces and spiritual realms this potential parson has soared among the scintillating lights of our collegiate universe, and none have been more scintillating than he. Already an active minister, he will provide some seminary choice material for turning out a perfect product in the course of time.

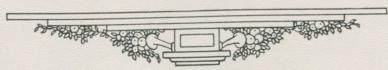

W. D. ALLEN

PINOLA, MISSISSIPPI

Lee-Haywood Medal (2); Debating Team (1, 2, 4); Debating Council; Student Body Attorney; All Offices Hermenian Society; Second Orator Anniversary Staff; Class Basketball (1, 2); Special Distinction; Hermenian.

In attempting to portray the attributes of Webb Allen one must know from whence he came and with whom he has been associated in order to appreciate the fullness thereof. Webb was born at Pinola, Mississippi, and spent his childhood roaming the meadows and playing beneath the sighing pines. That calm, clean, cool, level and efficient atmosphere has been instilled in and is characterized by Allen's every action. In college Webster Allen has made an enviable reputation. His scholastic record ranks among the first. His dependability and capability has given him many places of honor as a Choctaw. He is unswerving in his course for the right. Webb goes out into life well prepared and with a host of friends. He is qualified to succeed.

Who never strutted about the stage nor raised his voice in dramatic emphasis in order to attract attention, but who has nevertheless the nick-name of "Chink," that will follow him through the ways and by-ways of the road to tomorrow. Who seemingly takes everything rather unexcitedly, and who is not easily ruffled by events of even great importance. Down beneath the surface, however, there is a nature which is always awake to anything that affects either himself or the class of '26. Alphabetically speaking, at least "Bull" and "Chink" are very closely related.

Millsaps College (1); Class Ball (2, 3); Hermenian.

To know this man is to like him—big-hearted, fair, cheerful and sometimes quiet, but always ready to do his part in programs, nearly describes "Chawles." We do not know exactly what his plans are for the future, but we do know that whatever profession he enters can claim as its own a man who will be worthy. M. C. will miss you, "Sheik," but as you go from our doors you carry the best wishes of all. Good luck.

HENRY FRANKLIN SPROLES

OF

BERNICE, LOUISIANA

Class Basketball ('21, '22); Class Baseball ('21, '22); Stute Club ('26); Kitchen Knaves ('21, '22, '23); Philomathean.

Sproles is known as "Acorn" to the Mississippi College boys, and "Little Brother" to the Stute girls. He has a reputation for being a great ladies' man, and as far as we know, lives up to it. A very pleasant fellow and is the life of every occasion; with his cheerful spirit and enthusiasm. he puts pep into everything that he undertakes. We predict a great future for him and feel sure that he will succeed in whatever he may undertake.

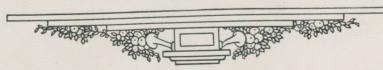

CLYDE R. MOSIER

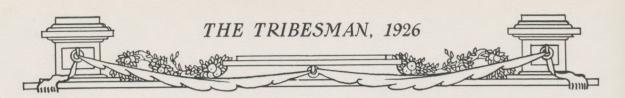

OF

ENID, MISSISSIPPI

Three-Year Club; Education Club; Philomathean; Distinction.

Mosier comes to us from Enid, Mississippi, and is a credit to Mississippi College, acquiring distinction in the three years that he has been here, is in itself proof that he is one of the best students in school. With his jolly, care-free nature and inexhaustible supply of humor, Clyde has won the love and friendship of both the student body and faculty. One could sit all night and listen to his views of life and ladies, which, in his opinion, go hand in hand. He is just a regular fellow and we wish him great success.

ALTON C. SIMMONS

OF

HAZLEHURST, MISSISSIPPI

Class Track (1,2); Band (2); Class Basketball (2); Varsity Baseball (3); "M" Club; Philomathean,

It's almost impossible to describe "Doc." He is witty, clever, funny, jolly and comical. Your blue and despondent feelings all disappear when you meet him. It seems as if his favorite pastime is women and song, and his motto, "the more the merrier." He has a great talent for music, as he sings well and can play most any string instrument. Now the serious side of life finds "Doc" very sincere in his class room work and a terror to all of the professors (Dutchy included). Also, he has been a conscientious worker on the athletic field. He has proven his ability as a baseball hurler many times, and his work as a track man is not to be overlooked. "Doc" has chosen medicine as his profession; our best wishes go with you, "Doc."

A smile, a cheerful greeting and a good word for everyone with whom he came in contact, is Clayton all over. As you go from us, we send our best wishes for a most successful career in your chosen field—we are for you.

EDWIN L. DENMAN

OF

CHARLESTON, MISSISSIPPI

Delta Club; Philomathean.

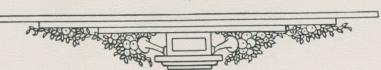

Coming in the fall of '22, "Den," as he was called, soon stamped himself deep into those who knew him best, for no man in our class is any truer, fairer or friendlier than he. He was a friend to all, a loyal Choctaw and a good student. He could be counted on to carry his part of the burden of any movement of which he was a part. To you, "Den," we wish all success, and as you go remember you have a true friend in those you leave behind as well as those who go with you.

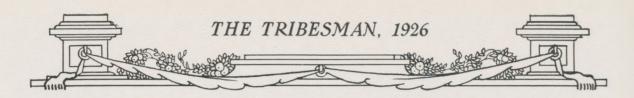

JOHN NEWTON McCORMICK

HICKORY, MISSISSIPPI

Assistant Business Manager "Tribesman" (3); M. S. C. W. Club.

"Mac" came to us in the fall of '22, bearing his share of timidity, which was soon replaced by the dignity of a college student. He is a likeable chap, and is held in high esteem by his classmates. He has proven himself a man of sterling worth, with high ideals, a cheery disposition, and steady determination. We feel confident that in the years to come his achievements will bring honor to his Alma Mater.

Here's another of our sky pilots, and there is none other whose course has been more unswervingly directed toward his guiding light than his. Causey has been for four years a leader in his literary society and is notable for his loyalty thereto. His mighty physique has served his class on the athletic field throughout his sojourn here. A man, physically, mentally, spiritually—that's Causey.

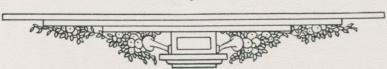

ROBERT G. ROGERS

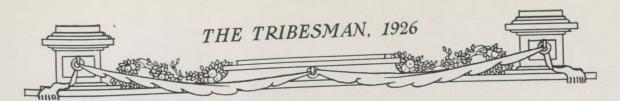

OF

PLANTERSVILLE, MISSISSIPPI

Class Tennis (3); Vice-President Ministerial Association, Summer Term, '25; Banner Bearer of Philomathean Society (4).

You have so lived that at the end, your class-mates say, he is our friend.
"Fatty" hailed to us in the fall of '22 from the quiet and peaceful village of Plantersville, Rogers tends strictly to his own business and has been a faithful member of his class. It is needless to say that great success in the ministry awaits such a man as he.

CLAUDE S. MANGUM

OF

TYLERTOWN, MISSISSIPPI

State Teachers' College; Freshman Football; Freshman Basketball; Glee Club; Band; Reserve Football (2, 4); Reserve Basketball (2, 4); Assistant Manager Baseball (2); Manager Baseball (4); Class Football (4).

This young Southern Mississippian gave A. & M. and State Teachers' College a trial his Freshman year, but at the beginning of his Sophomore year he decided to try M. C., and so well pleased was he with his choice that he has remained with us to receive his diploma. While with us he has been a member of both varsity football and varsity basketball squads, lending his strength to uphold the glory of the Choctaws. He has been a tower of strength to his class athletic teams, and this spring he is still serving his Alma Mater as manager of her baseball team.

J. E. HENDRICK

OF

We have forgotten whether we first called him "Peanut" because of his diminutiveness or because of his sideline occupation of vending the delectable legume, but as such he has been known to us, lo, these many years. His diminutive size has become a thing of the past, and as he has increased in stature, so has he grown in wisdom and learning, fully deserving to be called the dignified Senior, that he is today. His worthiness of the regard that all of his schoolmates hold for him is equaled only by his worthiness of the diploma that is soon to be his.

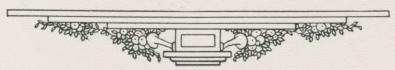

W. A. PRICE

INVERNESS, MISSISSIPPI

Class Football (1, 2); Band (1, 2, 3, 4); Publicity Manager of Band (3); President of Band (4); Orchestra (3, 4); President Music Club (4); President DeMolay Club (3).

Four years ago Sunflower County sent to Mississippi College one of the best and most likeable boys that has ever come to the Choctaw campus. This boy is none other than "Bill." He is a modest, clean, ambitious, big-hearted fellow who greets everybody with a smile. His affable way among the boys, and his winning way among the girls, gives him the distinction of being one of the most popular men in school. His ability as a musician is also outstanding, as is proven by the fact that he was elected president of our College Band this year. We are not endowed with such intelligence that we can look into the future, but if we were, I am sure we would look with amazement at the fact. A brilliant physician, they say, he will be. Let us rejoice with him in every forward step.

JAMES RODNEY BRANTON

OF

We find in "Brandy" a combination of scholarship and fellowship seldom seen in an individual. Achievement in text-book work is one of his self-sacrificing alms in college and that has been accomplished, but that is not his total ambition in life. By far, the overwhelming goal which he has plished, but that is not his total ambition in life. By far, the overwhelming goal which he has possible to reach, is efficiency in Christian service. With all his brilliance, he is not over-emotional, sought to reach, is efficiency in Christian service. But a loyal Choctaw. E. P. KEEN of

WEIR, MISSISSIPPI

Hermenian.

Probably a more quieter boy than Keen never came to college. One would never know he was in school if he waited to be told by Keen himself. Fortunately, we have the ways of discovering a man's qualities and by these ways we have found Keen to be a conscientious, hard-working student. One who sets a goal and never quits until he has reached it. He takes a great interest in the affairs of college, and all things which concern the good of the student body. Judging by his perseverance and hard work, we predict a great future for him.

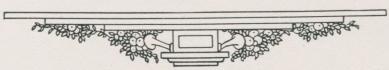

O. W. THOMPSON

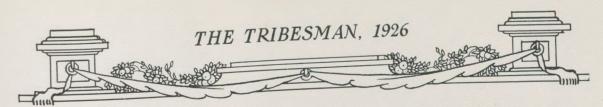

OF

Harley comes to us from Brookhaven, and enjoys the respect and confidence of all his fellows. A quiet, unassuming gentleman, is this fellow. He has played a part in making the class of '26 almost continuously triumph in interclass athletics; nor has he failed to impress his fellows with his rare qualities of good nature. He is handsome, courteous, loyal, and always pleasant. Here's hoping him speedy success in his life's work.

"A. B." was first discovered in Jefferson County in the early part of the twentieth century. From that time on this very interesting piece of humanity has been increasing in knowledge and wisdom. Zeal, pep, enthusiasm and determination are some of "A. B.'s" chief characteristics. Very few boys have ever finished Mississippi College with a brighter future than "A. B." has. Houston hails from Harperville—can any good thing come out of Scott County? Here is indisputable proof of the affirmative answer to that question. Good, yes; a good fellow, a good student, has a good time while making a good college record. We all know him and like him, a friend to all, a friend of all who know him and whom he knows.

Not a preacher, but a preacher's son. For three years have we had to listen to the mournful wailing of his saxophone, and though we shall miss his music, smiling face, cheerful optimism, and unceasing and open admiration for the fairer sex, we congratulate him on his no mean achievement of completing the college course in three years. No doubt he will ascend the ladder of success as rapidly as he has ascended in the scholastic scale.

MISS RUTH WATKINS

Stute Graduate—"Co-Ed."

Ruth—lovely, winsome, brilliant—has graced in a quiet, unpretentious way the class of '26. If the Centennial class may be said to be the crown of Mississippi College's century of production, Ruth is surely one of the brightest jewels in the crown. She came to us with highest honors in scholarship from Hillman, and has kept her lamp shining here with the same glow that marked her Hillman days. It would be too cumbersome a task to recount here her virtues and graces. Their name is legion. Devoted, consecrated Christian; loyal, faithful friend; gifted, skilled musician; talented, capable reader; congenial, entertaining conversationalist; thorough, illustrious student; beautiful, charming girl. And with it all, Ruth is very modest and unassuming—a friend allke to all the boys and girls. Wherever she goes, and whatever she does in the future, she will carry with her the admiration and good wishes, the friendship and esteem of her classmates of '26.

Junior Class History

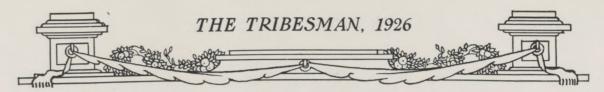

First, we recall that September morn of '23 when from the wind swept hills of the North to the sea-sprinkled shores on the South, from the civilization of the cities to the cross-roads of "Sullivan's Hollow," from the rice swamps of Louisiana to the wilds of Arkansas, 150 strong, we flocked together, bringing into existence, then in all its verdancy, the class of '27.

Through the sessions that have passed since that memorable morn we have had our numbers cut more than in half; but we have also annexed a few junior college graduates; and now we stand seventy-five all told, as varied in our vocations and callings as the rainbow is in colors, yet united as a class, and loyal "to a man!"

Of what do we consist? All that any closs might boast of, and then some. Athletes? yes, we have them, seven pigskin warriors, two varsity basketeers, five, diamond aces, five cinder men, and numerous others in the minor sports. Of these numbers seven are M Club members. Two years we triumphed in class basketball. One year we tied for class football honors, and two years we went to the finals in class football.

Orators and debaters? Yes, all we need, and those few a select bunch, who will argue anything from "women" to "evolutions! Good! Now that we are, let us take an inventory. "Rich men, poor men, beggarmen, preachers, doctors, lawyers, co-eds, teachers," we have them all, Rich men? very few of us; in fact, none! Poor men? Most of us. Beggar-men? Yes, all of us when it comes to seeking knowledge. Preachers? Only twelve, but also evangelistic singers and the like. Doctors? Fifteen Premeds, many other science students. In this connection we notice that, with one exception, all the assistants in the science departmen are or have been membrs of the class of '27. Lawyers? Oh yes, ten of the silver-tongued denomination. Co-eds? There's our trumps, twelve strong, popular with the prof's and "Prenchie" and hard to avoid. Teachers? All the others, we guess; of course, with the exception of our barbers, skeet-jerkers, "asphalt Arabs," "

Class History

On the 15th of September, 1924, one of the greatest classes that has ever entered Mississippi College arrived and took up the burden of the lowly Frosh.

As is their way they were soon organized, and elected Kearney Walters, president, beginning the four-year march toward diplomas.

The class of '28 completed their first year with the reputation of being the peppiest class in school. They were also noted for their tendency to stick together and the whole-hearted way they had of doing things.

They began the second year with fully as much pep and almost as many members as they had had their first year; and started the session off right by electing James G.

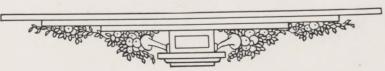

Blaine to pilot the class through its Sophomore year.

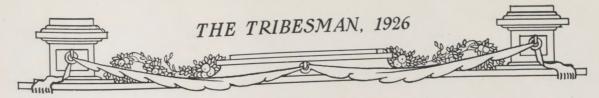

The wide field of varsity athletics was opened to the '28 year men and many of the Sophs distinguished themselves in this line of endeavor.

Not only in athletics have the second-year men been prominent, but they have also shown marked ability in other forms of student activity, as in the Literary Societies, B. Y. P. U.'s, Music Clubs, and other college organizations the Sophomores are outstanding members.

Class History

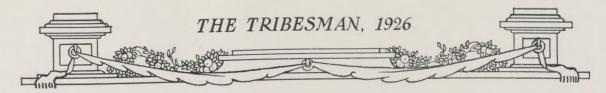

The "papooses" began to arrive in Jackson about September 14, 1925, with their greenness bulging out all over them. This was displayed by some of them paying $2.50 taxi fare to get to Clinton. The enrollment was completed on record time, and the final calculation reached the enormous figure of about two hundred.

A Freshman class meeting was called by Cohen Jenkins for the purpose of selecting leaders for the then disorganized aggregation. Excellent judgment was shown in selecting William Stovall of Greenville, Mississippi, as president. The upperclassmen conducted a most vigorous campaign among the Freshmen to enroll them as members of their respective literary society which resulted in a large number of applications for membership. These societies were potent factors in oblivating the usual greenness. Excellent students entered the debating field, making a creditable show in the varsity try-outs. Two of the number were selected to debate a team from Clark College.

The most outstanding achievement of the Freshman class was in the field of athletics. The onslaught of the Mighty Freshman football team could not be stopped by a single one of their opponents, which included the Freshman team of A. & M., and Millsaps; Clark College and G. C. M. A. Not once was the "Papoose" goal line crossed, and the team scored a total of 158 points against their adversaries. Likewise in basketball the Papooses have given a good account of themselves, having defeated the strong Clark quintet, Millsaps Freshman, and G. C. M. A.

Though its history must of necessity be short, however, the future is bright, and the class of '29 of Mississippi College expects to push forward into new fields in search of further conquest.

COACH GEORGE M. BOHLER

Coach Bohler, before coming to Mississippi College, was assistant coach at the University of Oregon.

In his college career he made All-Western Football, All-American basketball, and afterwards played some ten years professional baseball.

His ability as a Coach has no blemish. His quiet, modest nature and his devotion to his work have won for him the friendship of every person with whom he is associated and the love and high esteem of every loyal Choctaw.

COACH HALE

Coach "Goat" Hale, a Mississippi College product, once All-Southern halfback and All-Southern shortstop deserves much credit for the way in which he handled the coaching of football last Fall. He is also to have charge of baseball this season, and we are counting on him to produce a successful team.

Coach Hale's quiet nature, and allround sportsmanship have made for him a place in the heart of every M. C. student.

Coach Hale's quiet nature, and allround sportsmanship have made for him a place in the heart of every M. C. student.

COACH LEE

Coach Griff Lee is also another Mississippi College star athlete. He won fame both on the gridiron and the diamond, playing on the same teams as Coach "Goat" Hale.

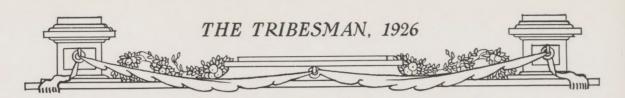

Coach Lee had charge of Freshman athletics this year, and he developed one of the best Freshman Football teams in the South. His well-coached Freshman quintet also brought credit both on him and on M. C.

Coach Lee's good nature and smile have made him one of the most popular coaches we have ever had.

VARSITY SQUAD

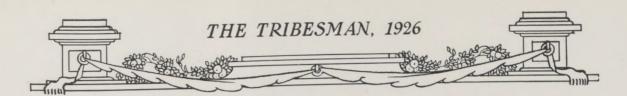

C. B. BERRY, CAPTAIN, End

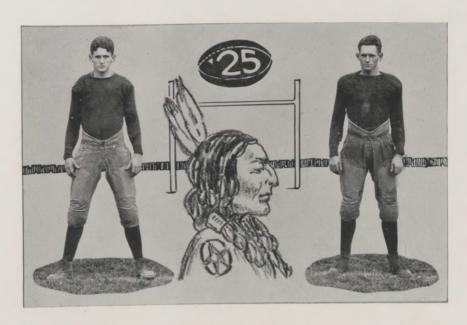

Captain "Pluck" Berry has played end on the varsity football team for three years. His great defense work and his ability to pull passes almost out of the opponents hands have been a big factor in the teams's success. Pluck is a quiet, calm player and has made one of the best football captains that we have ever had. It is with sorrow that we lose him this year, for he is a three-letter man and has won a place in the heart of every Choctaw.

WILSON, CAPTAIN ELECT, Quarter

Lewis Wilson has been one of the team's greatest assets in both offensive and defensive work this year. His excellent passing and consistent ground gaining have won for him the captaincy of next year's team, and in him we know we have a splendid leader and player. His pep and fight have won for him the friendship of every M. C. student.

"BIG RED" CHAIN, Tackle

When the call for football men to assemble was sounded last September "Big Red" Chain was one of the first to answer it. And in every game this year his performance has been keenly felt, particularly by the opponents. He is a calm, quiet player, but has plenty of pep and fight. As he comes from last year's Freshman team much is expected of him his last two years with us.

CHAIN, End

"Little Red" is another product of the Freshman team last year. His work on the varsity this year has been good, both offensively and defensively. He is fast on going down under punts, a good tackler, and receives passes well. We are all counting on him for even better work next year.

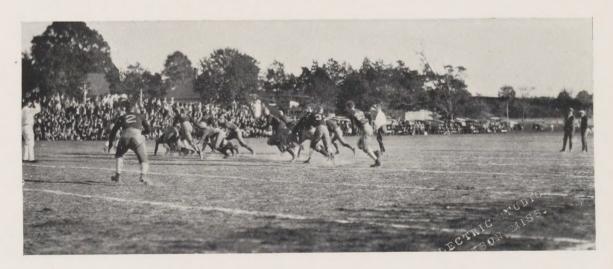

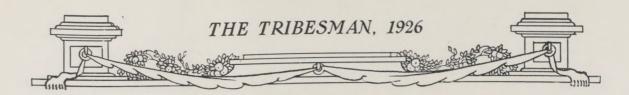

GEORGE ADAMS, Halfback

Adams also come to the varsity from last year's Freshman team. He came into his own in the latter part of the past season and played exceptionally good ball. His broken field running and all-round toe work featured. In his remaining two years of college he is going to be counted on for even greater work.

T. H. KENDALL, Halfback

"Ox" Kendall has played on the varsity for three years. His line plunging has been above the average, and few lines have been able to hold him. He runs low and has plenty of driving power. His defensive work this year has also been good. His pep and fight have been a great help to the Choctaw teams.

LEE, Halfback

"Sheriff" Lee was another number of last year's Freshman squad. This year he played a good brand of football. His broken field running and line plunging were good, and his defensive work was exceptionally good. "Sheriff" has two more years in college, and from the start he has made, he is sure to make good.

F. W. Pearce, Halfback, Fullback

"Big Chief" Pearce was one of the heaviest and fastest men on this year's football team. His natural ability coupled with his weight has made him a valuable man to the team.

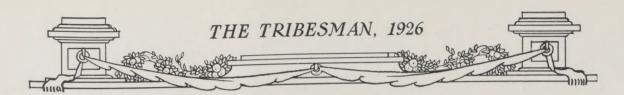

Julius Burghard, Tackle, Guard

One of the strongest men in the line was "Jew" Burghard. Tipping the scales at 210 pounds he proved to be a thorn in the flesh of the opponents. His brilliant fifty-five yard run at the Birmingham Southern game was the feature play of the season. Both offensively and defensively he played well, opening holes in the line and breaking through and downing opposing backs many times. He will be greatly missed next year.

A. E. SWEENEY, Halfback

"Red" Sweeney has worn his football togs for M. C. the last time. After last year's game with Tulane in which he was seriously hurt, we thought he was through with football—but not so. Red came back this year and played through one of the hardest seasons M. C. has ever had, and we owe much to him. His defensive work, passing, and punting were excellent, and it is with regret that we lose him.

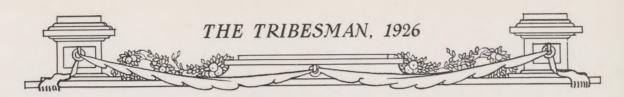

WALTER BOYKIN, Guard

"Boyskin" was a mainstay in the line this year. His coolness coupled with his fight, have made him one of the best linemen in the state. His defensive work was far above the ordinary. He has one more year in college and he is expected to even better his past two years' record.

W. B. "DEACON" HORTON, Tackle, Guard

After playing a year of reserve football "Deacon" came into his own the past season as a varsity man. As a defensive player he showed up exceptionally well. His offensive work was far above the average. He has one year more in college to add to his football laurels, and we are counting on him for even better work next year.

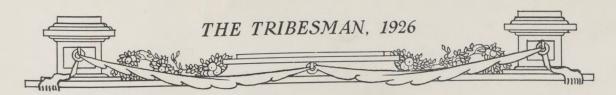

ENOCHS, Center

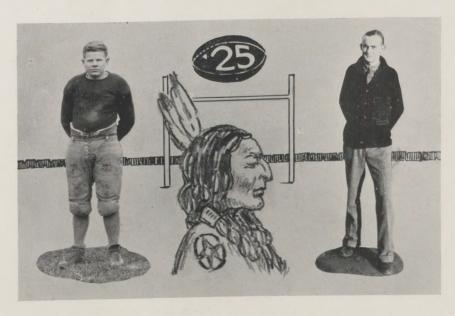

"Cotton" Enochs played center on the Freshman team last year. Although a little light in weight his persistent fight counterbalanced his lack of weight, and he proved to be one of the best men on the varsity. He has grit, fight, and determination, and when the call comes for football next season we are counting on him very strongly.

HERMAN WOODRUFF, Fullback

Woodruff was one of the best men on the last year's strong Freshman team. In the games he played in the varsity this year until he was knocked out on account of a broken ankle he was the mainstay of the backfield. Both offensively and defensively he played well, and much is expected of him next year.

"Hot" Moore, Guard

"Hot" Moore was one of the lightest players on the varsity last season, but his lack of weight did not hinder his playing. Fighting every minute of the time he was in the game, he was a veritable thorn in the side of the opponents. Moore is a quiet, calm player, but he takes delight in smashing through the opponent's line and breaking up plays. We predict a glorious season for him next year.

CRAWLEY, Manager

"Scrap" has been one of the best football managers we have ever had. His tireless, unceasing work for the team is commendable, and he justly deserves to wear the managerial "M." In addition to managing a varsity football team he has played on the class football team for several seasons and merits the name of "Scrap."

Football Season of 1925

WO weeks before school opened last Fall, forty-five Choctaw grid warriors reported for duty. Coach Arbuckle and Coach "Goat" Hale soon had the players in shape for one of the heaviest schedules M. C. has ever had. Most of the positions on the team had to be filled by new men.

The season opened on September 26 with the Choctaws battling the heavy Centenary College team in Shreveport, La. Two field goals and a safety were scored against the Choctaw warriors, but their goal line was not crossed. "Hot" Moore, "Big Red" Chain, Enochs and Woodruff showed up well in this game.

The following week the L. P. I. eleven defeated our team 6 to o. Hogg, fullback for L. P. I., recovered a fumble in the last five minutes of play and ran fifty-five yards for a touchdown. The game was hard fought throughout.

The next week saw the Tribesmen fall again—this time to Loyola in New Orleans. Lewis Wilson scored a touchdown in the first two minutes of the game, but failed to make the try-for-point. The game was an apparent Choctaw victory until the last two minutes when a Loyola half broke loose and was downed on the eight-yard line, and the quarterback carried the ball over the goal line. Their quarter made the try-for-point and the game ended, Loyola, 7; M. C. 6.

Birmingham Southern was next on the schedule and they suffered a surprise. Their heavy team, outweighing the Choctaws thirty pounds to the man, was tied, 25-25. "Pluck" Berry and "Jew" Burghard were the outstanding stars, the former receiving three passes that resulted in touchdown, the latter blocking a kick and sprinting fifty-five yards for the tying score.

On College Day at the Fair, in a sea of mud, the Millsaps Majors defeated the M. C. Choctaws, 6-o, for the first time in the history of the two institutions. Crawford, Millsaps' star halfback, returned a punt for a touchdown, circling the entire Choctaw team.

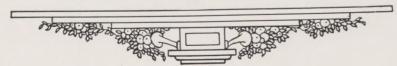

Howard College held the big end of a 10-6 score against M. C. the following week. The game, played on Provine field, was featured by fumbles and thrills. Sweeney, Choctaw half, scored the first touchdown of his three years of college football. Howard blocked a punt for the winning touchdown.

The next week the Tribesmen suffered the only decisive defeat of the season in Starkville. A. & M. completely subdued the Choctaws by the score of 46-o.

On Home Coming Day, the heavy Ole Miss team defeated M. C., 19 to 7. The visitors scored three touchdowns in the first half. The Choctaws came back strong the second half and held the opponents scoreless the rest of the game. "Deacon" Horton scooped up a fumble and ran forty yards for the Choctaw counter.

The last game of the season was played against Louisiana College on their gridiron; the Louisianians suffering a 27 to o defeat. Berry scored two touchdowns, "Little Red" Chain one, and Wilson one. "Big Chief" Pearce, "Ox" Kendall, playing their last football game for the Tribesmen, showed up in old-time form.

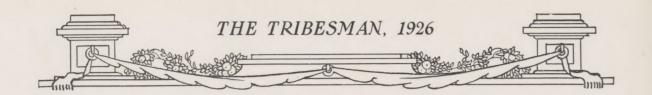

Taken as a whole the past football season, though not a decided success, cannot be called a failure. Fate played a prominent part in turning victory from the Choctaw's hands in almost all of the games. Five letter men will be lost by graduation but with a strong Freshman team and many good reserves we are looking forward to one of the greatest football teams next year that has ever represented M. C.

"RAT" SQUAD

HE record made in the past season by the Freshman Football team of Mississippi College was one of the greatest in the history of the institution. Throughout the entire season, the Papoose goal line remained uncrossed, while time after time, the powerful Choctaw backs plowed through the line or skirted ends for touchdowns. Coach Griff Lee, a former Choctaw grid star, is due a great deal of praise for his tireless work with the Freshman squad.

The Papooses opened the season with a 64 to 0 win over the Deaf and Dumb Institution of Jackson. A. & M. brought their heavy Freshman team to our campus the following week and the Bull Pups were forced to bow to the young Braves, 7 to 0.

Gulf Coast Military Academy was the next victim. The Cadet eleven fell before the onslaught of the Papooses, 47 to o. In this game, "Buscuit" Wilson made his immortal record of four touchdowns in seven minutes.

Clark College, doped to beat the Freshmen two or three touchdowns, came out of the battle on their field with the short end of a 7 to 0 score. The Papoose line stopped the heavy Clark backs almost on every play.

The Papooses ended the season with a 32 to 0 win over the Millsaps Minors in Jackson. The whole team starred in this game, the offensive work being the best of any game in the season.

The features of the season were the punting and passing of Bailey, the broken field running of "Buscuit" Wilson, the great offensive and defensive work of Captain Roscoe Lumpkin, and the all-round teamwork of every man.

The Freshman Basketball, 1926

The Freshman Basketball team has had a very successful season. Many good players have been developed, and these men will be counted on to help fill places left by the graduation of five varsity players. Players worthy of mention are Hitt, Riley, Hackett, Knight, Walker, Price, Johnson and Nutt.

Results of Season

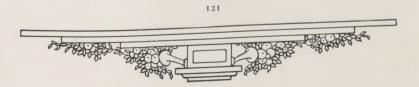

Clark 29-20-24;	Papooses						3	7-26-6
Millsaps Minors 20-30-23;	Papooses						36	-13-15
G. C. M. A 16-15;	Papooses							48-50

Basketball

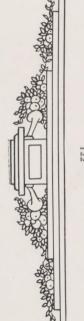

VARSITY SQUAD

JENKINS, Guard

Captain Jenkins has played on the varsity team for three years. His ability as a running guard has ranked him with the foremost of the South. He is a fast, elusive dribbler, an accurate passer, and has an uncanny eye for the basket. A self-sacrificing player, always fighting for the glory of the team—Cohen Jenkins! His place will be very hard to fill next year.

LAIRD, Center

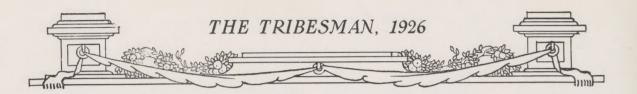

There is no better defensive player in the South than "Mama" Laird. For three years he has borne the brunt of the opponents' attacks and has done that well. His passing and his offensive work in general have been far above the average. A calm, modest, but hard-fighting player is Laird. We will feel his absence greatly next year.

BERRY, Forward

Perhaps the greatest, all-round athlete that Mississippi College has ever produced is "Pluck" Berry. His basketball ability is beyond question. As an offensive player he ranks with the best of the South. The past season he averaged thirteen points a game—an intercollegiate record. His defensive work, his coolness on the court, and his headwork make him a great player. His absence will be keenly felt next year.

PARTITION OF THE PARTY OF THE P

JOHNSON, Forward

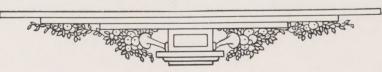

"Nommy" Johnson has been a mainstay on the varsity team for three years. His uncanny eye for the basket has made him one of the Choctaw's greatest forwards of all times, and has also been a "thorn in the flesh" of the opponents. Tommy, we will miss you next season.

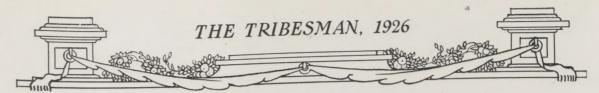

CHAIN, Forward

"Big Red" was one of the mainstays on the team this season. As a goal thrower he ranks high; as a defensive player he classes among the best. This is his first year on the varsity, and we are expecting much of him his last two years here.

WILSON, Forward

Wilson is one of the fastest forwards in the state. Both offensively and defensively he played great ball the past season. As he is a Junior we are counting on him for even better work next year.

DUNCAN, Guard

Duncan "Ole Reliable Joe" Duncan, the player who was fighting every minute of the game for the team's success and for the glory of his school, cannot be given too much praise. His defensive work was excelled by none, and his quick return of opponents' throws to his own teammates started many a Choctaw rally. Joe will be greatly missed when the basketball call comes next year.

PEELER, Center

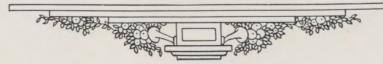

Joe Peeler showed more basketball ability the past season than any new man out for the team. His ability to handle the ball, equally as well as a monkey does a cocoanut, has made for him his first basketball letter. As he is a Sophomore, we are counting heavily on him for next year.

PATTERSON, Manager

"Pat" Patterson has made one of the best basketball managers we have ever had. He has worked hard for the team, has never shirked a duty, and has always been on the job. His tireless, unceasing work has won for him his managerial "M," and we are proud of his record as a manager.

Basketball, 1926

OACH BOHLER, once All-American guard and our peerless mentor, took over the coaching of the varsity basketball team the past season, and wonderful progress has been made. Many teams can testify to the perfect passing, accurate goal throwing of the Choctaw five. As a defensive team the Tribesmen were surpassed by none.

Berry and Johnson, forward; Laird, center, and Jenkins and Duncan, guards, having played together since their Freshman year, made the past season their greatest. These incomparable five players have literally "put Mississippi College on the map" in basketball circles. What team is there in the South which has met this band of fighting Choctaws that cannot vouch for the Tribesmen's basketball ability?

During the past season twenty games were played, and the Choctaws emerged victorious in fifteen of them. In these twenty games the Tribesmen amassed a total of 816 points to their opponents' 573. Of this total number of points, Berry, star forward, scored 253, an average of almost 13 points a game—an enviable record for a basketball player!

Johnson and Laird though starting the season late, soon showed up in old time form. Johnson had his eye on the basket the first day he played, and from then on he was looping the ball through the wicker for many counters. Laird, six-foot center, broke into form in the first game he played, and his defensive work did much to keep the opponents' score low. His offensive work was far above the average.

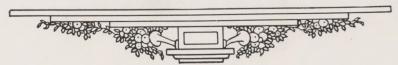

Duncan and Jenkins held down the guard positions in an enviable way. Duncan, standing guard, was excellent in his defensive work. Captain Jenkins, the classiest and fastest little running guard in intercollegiate basketball, was one of the team's greatest assets, both as a defensive and offensive player.

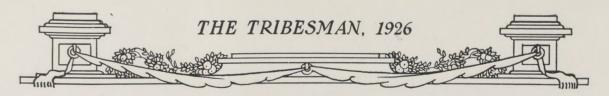

Peeler, substitute center, played an excellent brand of ball when he was called on. Wilson and Chain, forwards, were always ready when they were needed, and they added many points to the teams score.

A score of the past season's games is as follows:

11 500	ic or the Pu	 	- 6	,

Note—As the Annual goes to press we wish to note that the Choctaw basketeers won the Southern championship of 1926. In the games at the tournament we won from Presbyterian College, Kentucky Wesleyan, Mercer and, in the finals, defeated Citadel, thereby winning the championship. The tournament was held in Greenville, South Carolina.

Baseball

"Red" Sweeney

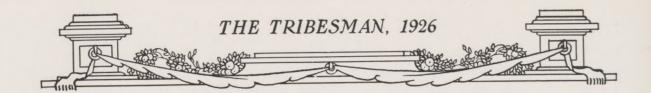

Captain of Baseball

Perhaps no other man deserves a captaincy of a Choctaw team more than "Red" Sweeney. "Red" has been one of the mainstays on the varsity pitching staff for two seasons and he has he!ped turn in quite a few victories for Mississippi College. A modest, hard fighting player, willing to sacrifice himself for his Alma Mater—"Red" Sweeney.

129

THE TRIBESMAN, 1926

Baseball

S the annual goes to press, Coach "Goat" Hale is working a squad of thirty varsity baseball candidates. Many promising players are fighting hard for places on the team, and all indications point to a successful season. Only three letter men from last year will be missing.

A schedule for the coming season includes series with University of Iowa, University of Wisconsin, Southwestern, Howard, Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, Louisiana College, Millsaps, Mississippi A. & M., and Birmingham Southern.

Last year's baseball season can truly be called a success. Many hard fought games were lost or won in the last inning. The team, as a whole, worked together in a fine way, and Captain Huggins is to be praised for his hard work in taking hold of the team and coaching the players in the early part of the season before Coach Bohler took charge.

The receiving end of the team was filled by "Red" Holliday the whole season. He caught every game but the last one, and his stick work helped win many of the games.

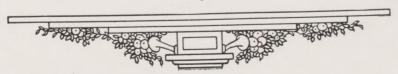

The pitching staff was composed of Sweeney, Hall, Kendall and Simmons. "Mama" Laird held down the initial sack, "Pluck" Berry was on the keystone corner, Captain Zack Huggins filled Shortstop, and "Cy" Parks was parked on the hot corner.

In the outer gardens Tommie Johnson cared for left, Cohen Jenkins roamed around in center, and Coney took charge of right.

The season started in New Orleans with the Choctaws playing Tulane, and from that time till the last game with A. & M. the Tribesmen had their hands full.

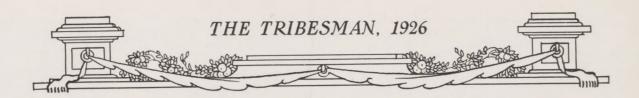

The result of last year's games is as follows:

Tulane 14-2;	M. C 5-1
U. of Wisconsin 4-1;	$M. C. \dots 7^{-14}$
Vicksburg Cotton States 7-9;	M. C 6-6
Millsaps 5-2-3-7;	M. C 8-5-6-8
I. P. I 8-7-13-10;	M. C 10-9-10-6
Centenary 6-1-7;	M. C 0-8-10
Birmingham Southern 6-1;	M. C 10-10
Ole Miss 5-6;	$M. C. \dots 3^{-0}$
A. & M 2-7;	M. C 1-0

"Deer-Foot" Cliburn

Captain of Cross-Country Team

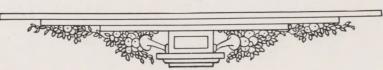

Cliburn is doubtless the greatest long-distance runner that has ever represented Mississippi College in a track meet.

For two years the cross-country team has brought home from Birmingham the S. I. A. A. championship. This year the team lost to A. & M. but won from "Ole" Miss. A worthier captain than Cliburn could not have been selected, and we are expecting much of him in the track meet this spring.

F. W. "Big Chief" Pearce

Captain of Track Team

Pearce, though tipping the scales at 190 pounds, is one of the fastest sprinters in school. He deserves the captaincy that his teammates have conferred on him, and we are counting on him to lead the team to victory in the track meets this spring.

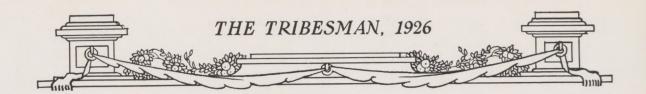

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM

Ткаск Теам

Track, 1925

AST Spring track came into its own in Choctawland. Before that time interest in cinder path and field activities had been lagging, but Captain Hewitt and Coach King put their whole work into track, and a good team was developed. Many men who had no idea of being track athletes came out and made good.

Captain Hewitt deserves much credit for the way in which he led his team-mates. As a track man himself, he was one of the greatest milers that has ever represented the Choctaws in a meet.

In a triangular meet with Ole Miss and Millsaps last Spring, the fleet-footed Braves were nosed out in the last event. Throughout the entire meet it was "nip and tuck" between Ole Miss and the Choctaws, but the Red and Blue triumphed in the relay, thus giving them enough points to win the meet.

The feature of the meet was the brilliant mile run by Captain Hewitt. After losing a shoe in the second lap of the mile, and trailing an Ole Miss runner until the last twenty yards the fighting Choctaw finished the race with a spurt, passing his opponent only a few yards from the tape!

The sprinters on the team were Parks and Pearce. Lie high and low hurdlers were Parks and Puckett. Robinson and Puckett took charge of the broad jump and and high jump. Williams showed much ability in the pole vault. Burghard and Jones threw the discus and javelin. The quarter, half-mile, and mile runners were Captain Hewitt, "Arkansas" Shannon, Vinzant and Puckett.

In the S. I. A. A. track meet in Birmingham the Choctaws won third place.

The following men made the trip to Birmingham and received letters in track: Capt. Hewitt, Shannon, Parks, Pearce, Robinson, Burghard, Jones and Moak.

The Freshman track team last year was one of the best in the South. Many high school stars were on the team and since most of these are back, we are counting on having one of the best track teams in the state.

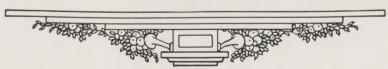

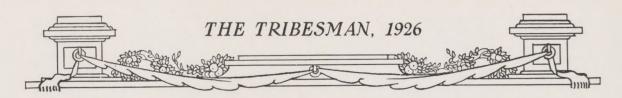

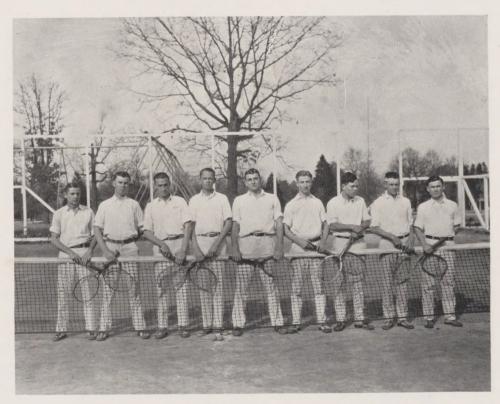

Zack Van Landingham

No other man in school has done more for the development and welfare of tennis than has Zack. He has been tireless in his efforts to help tennis get a foothold again in Mississippi College, and we give him our heartiest praise.

Zack has played on the varsity tennis team for two years. This season he won the singles from the Millsaps entry in a hard-fought match, and we believe he will be a strong contender for the singles Championship in the tennis meet here this Spring.

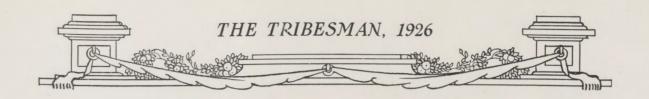

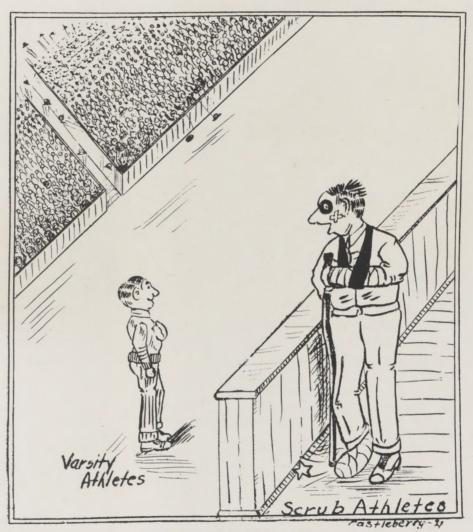

TENNIS TEAM

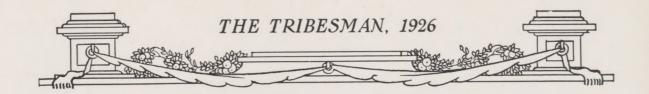

Tennis

Increased interest in tennis in Mississippi College is fast putting this game into the ranks as a major sport. A creditable showing was made by M. C. racqueters in the state tournament last year when second place in both singles and doubles was captured. This year an even better record is expected, and our players are working hard pointing all efforts to the S. I. A. A. tournament to be held in Macon, Ga., this spring. The above varsity team emerged victors in the tournament of fifty players who were candidates for the squad. Games have been arranged this spring with the "Y" teams of Vicksburg, Jackson, Yazoo City and McComb. Millsaps has already been defeated once this season by the Choctaw team.

DEDICATED TO SCRUBS

The Scrub

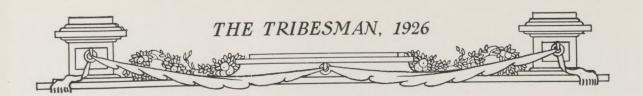

HERE is many a rose born to blush unseen, many a violet whose fragrance never assails the nostrils of man, many a mushroom whose succulent flavor never pampers the palate of a patrician, many a fire-fly whose radiance never reaches a human eye, many a hero whose deeds are unsung. In this latter class falls the Scrub—a hero? Yes! He is the man who gets the hard knocks, the bruises, the aches, the pains, the hard work, who acts as the tackling dummy for the varsity man, who runs his tongue out to give the varsity cageman the necessary opposition to develop the high degree of skill to become a winner, who hurls the horsehide covered sphere with weary arm for the varsity batsman to train his hawk-like eye in the fine art of swatting the old apple on the nose, who works, day after day, without ever a hope of reward, yet faithful to the end contributing his bit to the development of the team, himself forgotten in his zeal for the common good.

Aye, the Scrub is one of the most necessary ingredients of a successful athletic system, but who gets the glory? The star halfback who wins the big game with a sensational broken field sprint gets the glory, but the scrub who in practice day after day did his best to stop the same halfback, making him put forth all his energy and ability and developing himself to the point that he was able to make this sensational run, what about him? Is there any praise due him? We believe there is. A hero? Yes. Perhaps not in the eyes of the world, but in the halls of justice is he rightly proclaimed a hero of heroes.

If I had the forensic powers of Demosthenes, I would mount the highest pinnacle of the world and proclaim the praises of the Scrub to the nations. If I had the pen of a Shakespeare, I would immortalize the deeds of the Scrub in an undying epic. Were I a Phidias, I would carve from the richest marble the hills of Vermont produce a statue of the Scrub. Were I a Raphael I would portray on canvas in the richest colors at my command the rightful glories of the Scrub. But as I am only a prosaic, inartistic wielder of a mediocre pen I can only say, ALL PRAISE TO THE SCRUB.

MUVVERS

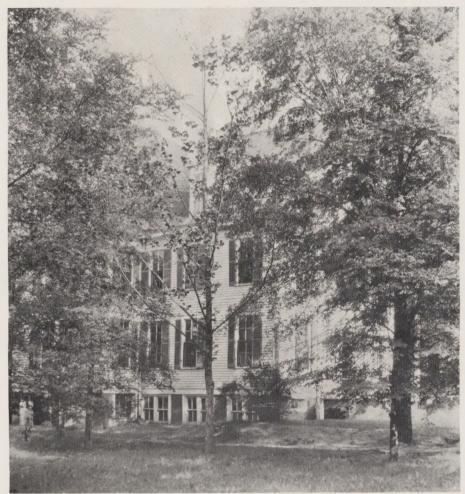

By HARRY LEE

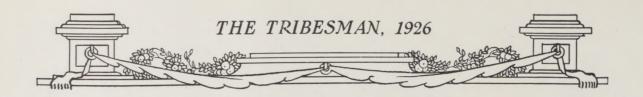

One time, I wuz so very small, I prit' near wuzn't there at all; An' Muvver says I wuz as red, An' hadn't any hair—an' led My folks a nawfle life—an's cried An' bawled—an' more she tried To hesh me up, the more I'd yell. She says—an' if I'd stop a spell, They'd wonder if I wuzn't sick—An' I would squootch my face an' kick, An' dab my fists in things, an' go In spazzums 'most. But even so, My Muvver loved me! Even hollering An' red, she loved me! Queeres' thing! She telled me 'at she loved me more She telled me 'at she loved me more 'An anything 'at wuz before Er since—er go'n to be, I spoze! Muvvers is funny, goo'ness knows! Why, even 'fore you git a name They love you—ist the very same!

CLYTEE HELMS, President

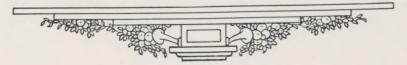

We are fortunate to have had such an efficient president of the Student Body during '26. Clytee has proved dependable in all phases of college activities.

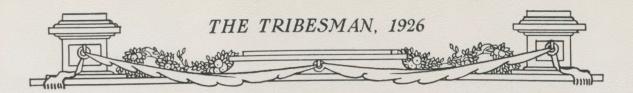

MARY NELL HAWKINS, Vice-President

Mary Nell is our very efficient vice-president. She has endeared herself to every member of the student body by her ever-ready smile. We all love her and hope we'll be lucky enough next year to have one just like her.

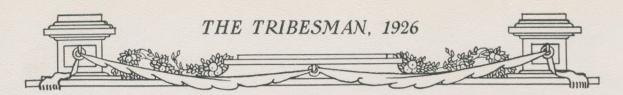

HAZEL POND, Secretary-Treasurer

Hazel has proved herself to be capable in all that she undertakes. She is a girl of a remarkable personality and intellect. All these accomplishments we know she will always succeed in whatever she attempts.

Class Poem

The last rays of the sun are setting
On our Hillman College days.
We gaze on the sunset with eagerness
And its glory in each heart lays.
Tomorrow the new day will greet us;
We'll step forth and meet it all right,
With the spirit of Hillman Choctaws
You bet, we'll win the fight.

True that once we were Freshmen,
Dumb, trusting each one in the hall—
Now, the prettiest, wittiest Class '26,
The brightest and sweetest of all.
Our new lessons in life are not easy,
There'll be problems to challenge our best
But the training our College gave us
Will help us to face each test.

The clouds in our skies will not vex us
For Youth's zeal will find a way
And we'll always know, where ere we go,
That the "Blue and White" holds sway.

LUCILE CRADDOCK Lesbian

PHILADELPHIA, MISS.

Lucile is one of the few who do not worry over their work. She is pleasant at all times, full of fun, though you might not guess it when you first meet her. She is brown-haired, blue-eyed, and by her friends she will be remembered as a "dear ole pal of mine." Vice-President Junior Class, '24-'25; Secretary-Treasurer Dramatic Club, '26; Y. W. A. Council, '26; Annual Staff, '26.

HAZEL POND Lesbian

VICKSBURG, MISS.

Hazel hails from Vicksburg. She is always on the mountain top of preparedness for any task, great or small. She never fails to greet you with a sunny smile, a helping hand and happy disposition. We all admire both her ambition and originality, so we hope Hazel will send us some more "Vicksburgers."

send us some more "Vicksburgers."
Annual Staff Mountaineer, '25; Secretary-Treasurer Student Body, '26; Senior Class Historian, '26; Annual Staff Tribesman, '26; President B. M. C. Club; Vice-President Dramatic Club, '26; Secretary-Treasurer Lesbian Society, '26; Most Popular in Who's Who Contest.

MARY NELL HAWKINS Lesbian

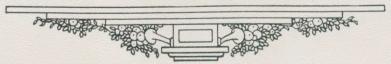

FLORA, MISS.

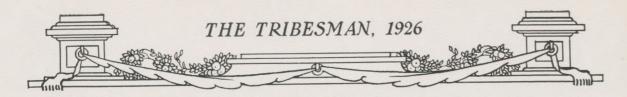

If silence is golden, there is not much chance for Mary Nell, but since "Smiles are more than rubles," Mary Nell will soon have a wonderful gem collection.

Poet Junior Class, '25, Senior Class '26; Vice-President Lesbian Society; Editorin-Chief Annual, '26; Prettiest and Most Attractive in Who's Who Contest, '26; Vice-President Student Body, '26.

Senior Class

CLYTIE HELMS Lesbian

MOORHEAD, MISS.

Don't let your first impressions of Clytie be lasting. She looks as if she might be "afflicted with dignity," so quiet and reserved—so unlike most people with red hair. She never displays even the slightest temper. When you know her you soon find out that she is ever sweet and gay and a jolly good sport.

President Student Body, '26; President Lesbian Society, '26; President Y. W. A., '26; Anniversarian Lesbian Society, '26.

RUTH GROSS Lesbian

CARTHAGE, MISS.

If application, industry and a smile avail anything in this life, "Babe Ruth" is certain to occupy a prominent position in this world. It can truly be said that she has done her best. Being always faithful and working with a never failing zeal, she is sure to mount to heights of fame.

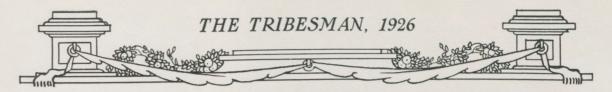

Y. W. A. Council, '26; Collegian Staff, '26; Lesbian Society Critic, '26.

IRENE HODGE Adelian

RIO, LOUISIANA

Both in the classroom and on the campus Irene has won for herself the name of a good student and a good chum. She is known by all and loved by all. Of her we can say without reservation that she will make a success of whatever she attempts, and that she will attempt much.

THE PROPERTY OF THE PARTY OF TH

CHRISTINE CAUSEY Adelian

BEWELCOME, MISS.

She has the fluid loveliness of an everchanging picture, which each moment reveals some new charm. A paradoxical mixture of laughter and seriousness, charm and efficiency, silvery song and an alert mind—ah, you hold our hearts in your hands, Christine!
President Junior Class, '25; Elected Most Talented, '25; Secretary-Treasurer Senior Class, '26; Vice-President Y. W. A., '26; President Adelian Society, '26; Adelian Society Critic, '26; Editor-in-Chief Collegian, '26.

NORMA JACKSON Adelian

LIBERTY, MISS.

There is so much that might be said about Norma we hardly know where to begin. Link together a keen mind, sparkling wit, and genuine understanding of fellowman, and imagine if you can the result. If she is this as a girl, what might she be as a woman? President Senior Class, '26; Y. W. A. Council; Collegian Staff, '26; Marshal Adelian Society, '26; Vice-President Adelian Society, '26.

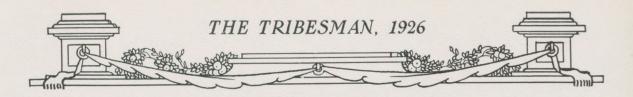

VIRGIE TURCOTT Lesbian

CLINTON, MISS.

Virgie was one of our town girls and for this reason we did not see as much of her as we wanted to. However, we know that if the pluck and courage she exhibited by persistently keeping at her work had been at the command of the class, she would have been a constant source of help and inspiration.

Vice-President Senior Class, '25-'26.

ANNIE LAURIE DAVIS Adelian

FERRIS, TEXAS

Annie Laurie's wit gives her a pleasing personality; she is ever ready for some fun and always contributes her share. In spite of this fun-loving spirit on the surface, underneath is the deepest sincerity.

Vice-President Alien Club, '26.

TRESSIE GREEN Lesbian

EANON, LA.

"A brown-eyed girl, a witty girl, a girl so full of fun,
A brainy girl, a carefree girl, a million girls in one!"

Here's a typical Senior. To analyze the charms of "Tress" is like trying to desert the fragrance of a flower. She is never too busy to do something for some one else and has a smile that makes one feel better and happier for having seen it.

Collegian Staff. '26.' Y. W. A. Council.

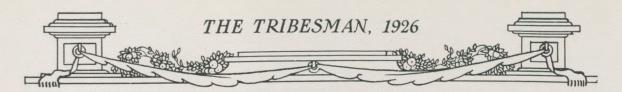

Collegian Staff, '26; Y. W. A. Council '26; Business Manager Dramatic Club '26; President Alien Club, '26.

MAMIE BROCK Lesbian

FRANKLINTON, LA.

From Franklinton, Louisiana, to Hillman College comes Mamie—one of the most lovable and considerate girls in school. She takes life as it comes and enjoys work as well as play. She has a lovely record which she would never be content without. Anyone can say truthfully, "To know Mamie is to love her." Secretary-Treasurer Lesbian Society, '26; President Dramatic Club, '26; Secretary Alien Club, '26; Collegian Staff, '26; Y. W. A. Council, '26.

LUCILE MORRIS Adelian

TYLERTOWN, MISS.

She came to us a child, but she is leaving as a finished product. We have no fear of the future for Lucile; for wherever she may be, her natural, sweet manner will win a place in the hearts of her fellow men.

Annual Staff, '26; President Adelian Society, '26.

MAY ROBINSON Adelian

RALEIGH, MISS.

May's wit gives her a pleasing personality; she is ever ready for some fun and always contributes her share. In spite of this fun-loving spirit on the surface, down underneath is the deepest sincerity. To know May is to love her. Elected Wittlest in Who's Who Contest,

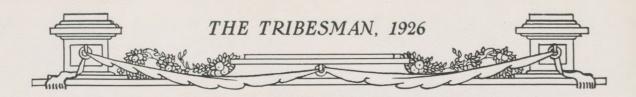

MARY PIGOTT Adelian

TYLERTOWN, MISS.

Our Mary is an embodiment of all the perfectly combined qualities of womanhood. Quiet, reserved, dignified and ever ready to help others; we have grown to consider her as one of our most valuable students.

PART OF THE PART O

Annie Lyda Heard Adelian

VAUGHN, MISS.

"Listen, y'all," Annie Lyda is one of the sweetest girls at the Stute. She's friendly, unassumingly modest, and altogether dependable. When one asks her to do a thing, it is done. She has a lovable personality and holds a quiet restraint on "us wild ones" by simply saying, "But listen y'all." We're going to miss her, but we wish her all kinds of success,

Y. W. A. Council, '26.

LEMA KEEN Adelian

WEIR, MISS.

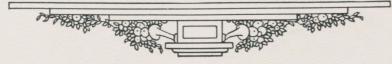

Lema is quietude itself. Although she has never dared express her opinions in public we know that she has very good ones. She is capable of being as genuine a friend as anyone could wish for and she never considers a favor too great to do for a fellow-student. Here's to her!

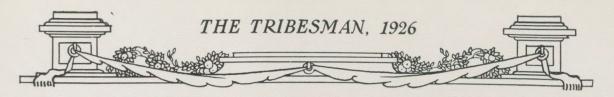

Agnes Lewis Adelian

CLINTON, MISS.

Agnes is gifted with "the peacock strut." She holds her head high, smiles, and takes the world as she finds it. We are proud of Agnes for her athletic ability and her dramatic talents.

Basketball, '26.

Lucile Carson Adelian

BELZONI, MISS.

Allow us to say that Lucile is one of the sweetest and most amiable girls in school. She never becomes ruffled or out of humor, and we realize that a person like this is so hard to find.

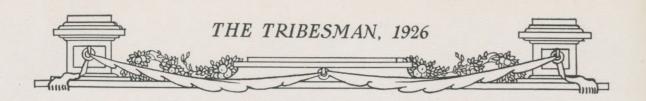

ERA BELLE McCullock Adelian

M'COOL, MISS.

Era Belle is one of the few girls of whom it can be truthfully said that the more we know her the better we love her. She is so quiet that one is apt at first to overlook her, but her sweet personality soon attracts, and after the first attraction soon binds friends to her. Here's luck to you, Era Belle!

SUPERPOWER AND INDUSTRIES

A few years ago Massachusetts was the leading textile manufacturing State of the Union. Today North Carolina leads Massachusetts by a safe majority. North Carolina had an ideal climate, cheap labor, much cotton, but no industrial power for turning machinery. She went after and brought into the State superpower systems.

Result: Industrial Expansion and More Wealth

Mississippi is the second largest producer of cotton in this country. She has an ideal climate, cheap labor, more cotton than North Carolina, and she can now offer to the manufacturer the advantages of superpower.

An abundancy of economical power means industrial expansion.
